

Cows and Bred Heifers Pace New York Fall Sale

Consignment numbers were back up for this year's New York Fall Sale, with 223 lots consigned to the event held at the Broome County Agricultural Center in Whitney Point, N.Y., on September 22, 2012. It was a buyer's market—the perfect opportunity for Jersey breeders to add strong pedigrees to their herds for reasonable prices. The sale posted an average of $778.86 on the 223 lots. Buyers paid premium prices for the group of 46 third-trimester bred heifers, which sold for an average of $1,063.04, and the 39 milking cows, which sold for $1,028.21 on average. Twenty-eight buyers from half a dozen states made purchases, with three Jersey breeders from Ohio, Iowa and Tennessee purchasing nearly half the consignments.
